- REVISED SUMMER SCHEDULES will be available before Spring registration.

NEW ARRIVALS IN THE BOOKSTORE include:

Biblical Studies

- Robert H. Gundry, Matthew: A Commentary on His Literary and Theological Art (Eerdmans)--the long-awaited commentary by Dr. Gundry, which Professor F. F. Bruce lauds as "the best approach to the redaction criticism of the Gospel of Matthew that I have ever read," has finally arrived, and includes, in addition to a detailed analysis of the Greek text, a "theological postscript" defending redaction criticism from an evangelical point of view.
- Barbara and Timothy Friberg (ed.), Analytical Greek New Testament (Baker)--the 3rd edition of the UBS text (= 26th edition of Nestle) has been augmented by an interlinear parsing of every word.
- James M. Efird, The Old Testament Writings: History, Literature, Interpretation (John Knox)--a basic introduction to the OT for the layperson, making available to a wider audience the latest fruits of scholarly work.

Church History

- Willem Balke, Calvin and the Anabaptist Radicals (Eerdmans)--the author attempts to vindicate Calvin over against the Anabaptists, without perpetuating the unfair criticism of the Anabaptists long prevalent.

Theology

- George W. Stroup, The Promise of Narrative Theology: REcovering the Gospel in the Church (John Knox)--a reexamination of the doctrine of revelation in light of new approaches to the Bible as narrative.
- Edward Farley, Ecclesial Reflection: An Anatomy of Theological Method (Fortress)--a new, major study which argues that the traditional locations of authority--Scripture, tradition, church--should function in correspondence to the way in which the ecclesial community persists over time.
- Walter L. Brenneman, Jr., Stanley O. Yarian and Alan M. Olson, The Seeing Eye: Hermeneutical Phenomenology in the Study of Religion (Penn State)--an attempt to establish a link between phenomenology and hermeneutics as seen by philosophers (notably Heidegger and Husserl) and as applied by students of religion (notably Eliade and van der Leeuw).

Spirituality

- David Watson, My God Is Real (Good News)--now available for the first time in America, this book represents Watson's defense of the gospel.
- Emilie Griffin, Turning: Reflections on the Experience of Conversion (Doubleday)--a personal account of conversion which focusses both on the intellectual and emotional aspects.
- Francis Raymond Line and Helen E. Line, Man with a Song: Some Major and Minor Notes in the Life of Francis of Assisi (Doubleday)--a celebration of St. Francis which "orchestrates" his life in a blend of narrative and poetry.
- Anthony T. Padovano, The Human Journey: Thomas Merton: Symbol of a Century (Doubleday)--Merton fans will appreciate this blend of literary and theological remembrance.
- Kate Swarthout, Lifesavors (Doubleday)--the sights, sounds, smells and joys of life, especially for women.

Sociology

- Stephen A. Grunlan and Milton Reimer (ed.), Christian Perspectives on Sociology (Zondervan)--a collection of essays dealing with the various subfields of sociology covered in introductory sociology courses.
- G. Carter Bentley, Ethnicity and Nationality: A Bibliographic Guide (University of Washington)--an annotated and up-to-date guide to the literature on ethnicity.
